Player Rules & Tournament Guidelines

Players are expected to adhere to the following rules and guidelines during the tournament.

Respect your GM: Goodman Games has a large pool of dedicated, talented and experienced GMs who volunteer their time at GenCon for your enjoyment. Be respectful to your GM. If they ask you to change dice, speak up more clearly or clarify something, please listen and work with them to make this the best tournament experience possible for all players. Remember the cardinal rule of all roleplaying - the GM is always right.

Dice Rolls: If a Player is using transparent or incredibly small dice – or using dice behavior that is questionable (e.g., dice bombing), the GM may request that a player use different dice. If the player refuses, the GM will issue a warning and may assess a scoring penalty.

Designating Targets: Players need to declare the targets of their action before rolling dice. The GM may ask players to re-roll dice if targets were not declared and the actions were not clearly defined before dice were rolled.

Tracking Hit Points: The Players must track their character hit points in a clear and easily visible manner for the GM. Players are encouraged to write their current hit points on the battleboard, an index card or some other means which allows the GM to see the state of the characters easily.

Healing: When the team conducts healing—whether using potions, scrolls, spells or other means—they must inform the GM and declare what healing is being used and the target of the healing before any dice or results are resolved. Adjustments to character hit points should be clearly indicated.

Errors and Discrepancies: It is possible that there are stat errors or other mistakes in either the PC stats or the module. This module has been playtested by several groups and reviewed extensively, but mistakes still happen. If you find a mistake, go with the PC AS WRITTEN. Repeat: Both the GMs and players will play with the character sheets and module as written.

Do not recalculate stats. This keeps the tournament fair for all players: even though a player might complain that "my BAB should be +8 not +7," every player with that PC has the same BAB in the tournament, so it's still fair. If one team makes adjustments and others don't, the playing field becomes uneven. Therefore: we will be using the module and PC stats as written, even if you find a mistake!

Tournament Guidelines

Taking 20: The PhoenixCrawl event is a major Pay Per View spectacle for the Xcrawl League. As such, sponsors won't be pleased with players dawdling in the dungeon. To reflect this, each Take 20 performed by a team results in a scoring penalty. At any time, a team may ask how many times they have collectively Taken 20, but the scoring impact for Taking 20 is not public knowledge.

Automatic Critical Hits: In Combat, an attack roll of a natural 20 is an AUTOMATIC critical – no confirmation roll needed. Weapons with a larger critical range must still roll for confirmation for results which are threats but not natural 20s.

Fumbles: In Combat, an attack roll of a natural 1 is a POSSIBLE FUMBLE. A fumbler must succeed at a DC 10 Dexterity test or lose their next Standard Action.

Saves & Skill Checks: A Natural 20 on any Save or Skill check represents an Automatic Success. A Natural 1 on any Save or Skill check represents an Automatic Failure.

Dice Rolls: For maximum equality and transparency, all GM dice rolls will be made in front of the players. This is mandatory for all GMs running slots of the PhoenixCrawl tournament.

Pre-Rolled Damage: All of the GM's random results in the adventure, such as weapon damage, spell damage or other variable effects (ie, images created by a casting of mirror image) have been pre-determined for the Phoenix-Crawl tournament, and are outlined in the module. This means that an enemy orc with a sword in one encounter will do the same damage per swing to any team whenever it hits. While this does allow player meta-gaming, it creates a level playing field so no teams will be unjustly undone by hot or cold GM dice.

Player damage and results are still rolled normally - the pre-rolled results apply to GM results only.

Frequently Asked Questions

I didn't get in a game! Will you add more slots?

We're trying! It depends on GM availability. If we are able to add more slots, we will fill them on a first-come, first-served basis with signup sheets at our booth. Come by the Goodman Games Booth (#2615) Thursday morning to check for availability.

I have a generic ticket—can I still play if someone doesn't show up?

If one of the original players with a valid pre-registered ticket is a no-show for Round One, after the allotted Grace Period (as outlined in our Player Guidelines), a player with a Generic Ticket may be eligible to be added to the team, if the other players present approve.

Players with Generic Tickets will be assigned on a first-come, first-served basis based on the master waiting list managed by the appropriate Tournament Director. The Xcrawl Tournament Director is Jay Little. The Tournament Director is the ONLY person authorized to assign Generic Ticket holders to tournament teams.

Adding a player with a Generic Ticket means that player becomes a part of that team from that point on. If the team advances, the player who had joined the team via a Generic Ticket advances, as well.

How many player characters are there in each session of the tournament?

Four.

Then why are there six characters?

You can choose four of the six characters to make up your party. The two not picked are left behind and not available. This allows each team to field a group of characters that best matches their playing style and strategy.

How do I advance to round two?

Advancement for all rounds is based on points scored during the previous round. The teams with the highest scores will advance.

How do I score points?

Points are scored using a modified version of the Lord Stable-ford System found in the Xcrawl Core Rulebook (p 177). Teams earn points for clearing rooms, disarming traps, discovering hidden areas/items, and fulfilling certain room conditions. Teams lose points for taking damage or dying, critically failing combat rolls, arguing with the referees, etc.

Do I need to preregister for round two or three?

No. Rounds two and three appear in preregistration strictly for scheduling purposes. You do not need to preregister.

Do I need a generic event ticket for round two or three?

Yes. If you advance, you will need a generic event ticket for the round. Please give the GM for your slot the generic ticket before play begins.

What if I'm late?

We encourage all players to begin play within the first 10 minutes of their scheduled time slot – if there is a player-created delay at the beginning (due to player tardiness, bathroom breaks, etc) this time does count toward the four-hour limit. Both players and GMs often have other events scheduled and the tournament slots must be kept on a strict timeframe. Any subsequent delays by the players also count against the time limit. Our best advice is to be prompt and be ready to play.

If I advance, which slot will I be in?

We can't guarantee any particular slot ahead of time. In general, if you played an earlier slot in round one we'll try to give you an earlier slot in round two.

Can I request a specific time slot for round two?

We will take note of requests for specific times, but we cannot guarantee that we will be able to honor them. With so many participants in numerous slots, the logistics of scheduling may not accommodate every request.

What if I have a time conflict with the slots for the second or third round?

This is a team tournament, and advancement occurs as a team. The minimum number of players for a team to advance is three. If fewer than three members of a team are available to advance, that team forfeits its slot. The forfeited slot will be filled by the next-highest scoring team from the previous round.

Can someone take my place on the team?

No. No substitutions are allowed. The team that starts play together ends play together.

What happens to my character, then?

One character per player. If you're absent, your character returns to the team's training camp and is unavailable for the remainder of the tournament. You won't lose points for a character death, but the character is out of the game.

What if I miss round two but can make round three?

When you missed round two, your character went home. He is not available for subsequent rounds.

How do I know if I'm an alternate team?

We will announce alternate teams with the advancement Information between each round.

When do results get announced?

Teams that advance from round one to round two will be posted at the Goodman Games Booth (#2615) at the completion of the round. No scores will be announced until ALL teams for a round have completed play. The exhibit hall opens at 10:00 AM each day.

Where possible, Goodman Games will also post results in the public areas of the gaming halls near the rooms where the sessions were held.

PhoenixCrawl Adventure Introduction

The small, cramped waiting room outside the first challenge smells strongly of fresh paint and plaster, and is uncomfortably warm. Even through the thick walls, you can hear the thrum of a rabid crowd cheering. AVS monitors mounted in the walls pan across the faceless throng of people, all eyes fixed on the door your team is about to enter.

An explosion rocks the room, and the AVS monitors erupt with images of countless fireworks filling the sky above the arena with blazing pyrotechnics. The crowd roars in delight, as fireworks continue to thunder over their heads.

A slender man in business attire and dark glasses stands near the door at the north end of the small room. Next to him, a sweaty-faced man with a headset and clipboard nervously wipes the sweat from his brow with a handkerchief.

The business man leans over to whisper something to the man with the clipboard, gives a curt nod to the group, then files past you and through the door leading back to the locker room where you geared up and stretched while waiting for your time slot.

"O... okay," stammers the man with the clipboard. "It's a... packed house out there tonight. The Xcrawl League officials h... have asked me to run through a brief list of r... reminders about the event."

You can barely hear the man over the din of the crowd, but could swear you heard him mention something about incineration insurance and a decapitation waiver. Before you can ask him to clarify, a red light starts flashing above the door leading north, and the AVS monitors blank out.

The roar of the crowd softens to a dull rumble as images of fire crackle across the AVS monitors. A deep voice fills the air, its rich tone holding the crowd enraptured.

"Ladies and gentlemen, I am so very pleased you could all attend. To those watching at home, welcome to the First Annual PhoenixCrawl Open."

A series of fireworks explode overhead, and the crowd roars its approval. After letting the crowd cheer for a few moments, the voice continues.

"Welcome to my domain. I will be your host for the next few hours, or for as long as you manage to survive. You may call me DJ Sizzle. I hope you like things spicy, because I've cooked up a hot little number for you here today. So let's not waste any more time, shall we? Phoenix – are you ready to burn?"

The crowd cheers even louder than before, whipped to a fever by DJ Sizzle. The red light above the door flashes faster for a few moments then turns off. You hear the click and whir of some mechanism in the walls to either side of the door as it unlocks.

The man with the clipboard looks nervously at you, then steps aside. He flips open a small panel on the wall, revealing a large red switch. "Get ready. And good l... luck. I hope you do better than the last t... team." With that, he flips the switch. The door slides open, a warm rush of air hitting you in the face.

Let the games begin.

Xcrawl Gameplay & Source Material

Team Mojo

Xcrawl is a death sport. Participants must utilize every possible advantage and resource to simply survive. Teamwork is invariably a factor. The Xcrawler puts his life into the hands of his teammates in every room of every event, and the bonds that are forged between players are comparable to that of any sport. To simulate the intangible bond between players that propels them to greater success as a group, you can use the special Xcrawl Mojo rules.

The Mojo is a bonus pool, represented by a number between zero and twelve. The Mojo can never be less than zero or higher than twelve. Awards that would take the pool higher than twelve are wasted. Penalties that would take the pool lower than zero simply bring it to zero, no less.

Players can give one another points from this pool to use as a bonus for any d20 roll other than saving throws. The catch is that players can't ever ask for a bonus from the Mojo pool—it has to be freely offered by another player. If a player asks for points out of the pool, he is automatically disqualified from using any Mojo for that particular encounter — teamwork just doesn't work that way.

Your GM will have more information on Mojo rules for the PhoenixCrawl Open and a tracking sheet to keep track of Team Mojo during play.

Fame

Fame is a measure of the character's current popularity. A character with a high fame rating is recognized everywhere he goes. Fame comes with many perks: preferential treatment, better rates for personal appearances and endorsements, and a higher likelihood of being invited to the top events. Fame also complicates and inconveniences the lives of the Xcrawler, sometimes immensely; celebrities have no privacy, and are considered fair game for comedians and frivolous law suits.

Fame is measured on a scale of 1 to 100. Players earn fame points for completing dungeon levels, performing memorable actions, and in other special instances decided upon by the GM.

During an Xcrawl event, a player may add his fame bonus to any grandstanding or mugging attempt he makes. Other than grandstanding or mugging, fame may not be added to any other performance rolls. Being famous does not make anyone immune from the occasional poor performance.

New Skill: Knowledge (Xcrawl) (INT)

Xcrawl players are usually lifelong fans of The Games. Players may take Knowledge (Xcrawl) to represent thousands of hours spent watching their favorite players battle their way through dungeons. This skill allows players to learn general knowledge regarding a dungeon judge's reputation for stinginess, a superstar creature's favorite tactics, or the previous owner of a powerful magic weapon. The GM can allow an Xcrawl lore roll for any piece of information the player may have gained from watching Xcrawl, with the skill check DC based on how rare or specialized the knowledge.

Mugging & Grandstanding

Performance is a vital skill to the wouldbe champion Xcrawler. Xcrawl is a spectacle for the audience, and smart players learn to work that audience very early on in their career. There are two new performance styles pertaining to Xcrawl: Grandstanding and Mugging. Each is a new talent for the Perform (CHA) skill.

Grandstanding is the art of working the crowd for maximum applause and recognition. A player can Grandstand at any time when a live audience is present in a room. He can do it in any manner he sees fit—the one-fisted salute to the crowd is always popular, but the possibilities are endless. Each crowd has a target DC to sway them determined by the module. A player attempting to Grandstand makes a performance check versus the crowd's DC. A success indicates the crowd reacts favorably—clapping, hooting, pumping their fist, or whatever else is appropriate. A critical success might mean a standing ovation. Failure can mean boos and catcalls or worse—stony silence.

Mugging is Grandstanding for the camera alone, with no live audience. It is a more subtle art, but an extremely important one. The difference between Grandstanding and Mugging is the difference between acting in the theater and acting for a movie camera; using tiny suggestive gestures instead of grandiose ones. Winking, blowing kisses, or giving steely-eyed looks all work well. The DC for Mugging is always 21.

Mugging and Grandstanding may both be performed untrained. Players may use Mugging and Grandstanding to affect a character's Fame.

More Xcrawl Materials

Xcrawl features numerous new spells, feats, skills, combat maneuvers and rules to get the most out of the setting. Check out the Xcrawl rulebook for more details.

Sponsor Support

If You Die, You Die! ... Mostly

The sponsors of the PhoenixCrawl Open have invested heavily in commercial and marketing tie-ins for DJ Sizzle's dungeon. During the initial testing, however, the dungeon proved so dangerous that sponsors were fearful the viewers may lose interest as some areas may never get explored by the Xcrawlers – they'd all be dead before they could complete the entire dungeon!

In an unprecedented move, the Temple of Apollo has provided each team entering the PhoenixCrawl Open with an incredibly rare gift – a phoenix feather. The phoenix feather is a powerful item that an Xcrawl participant can use to cast true resurrection on a slain teammate. The feather is consumed in the process, but unlike the spell true resurrection, the resurrection effect takes only one minute and can be activated by any character.

Sponsor Packages

To make the most of their investments in the tournament, several sponsors have also invested in individual teams. In the months leading up to the Phoenix-Crawl Open, sponsors contacted teams and their agents in hopes of having their products and services used by promising teams for maximum marketing exposure.

Your team has been approached by three potential sponsors, each willing to offer your team a selection of potions for use during the tournament. Your team may select ONE and ONLY ONE of the three Sponsor Packages shown below. If your team advances beyond the first round, the sponsor will replace any consumed potions so you will begin each round with the full complement of potions in the Sponsor Package selected.

You must select a Sponsor Package and clearly indicate your choice to the GM before play begins during Round One. If you have not selected a Sponsor before starting the first encounter of the first round, you forfeit your eligibility for sponsorship. This means you will not have a sponsor for any rounds of the tournament.

STUNNING FIST

You must declare that you are using this feat before you make your attack roll (thus, a failed attack roll ruins the attempt).

Stunning Fist forces a foe damaged by your unarmed attack to make a DC 17 Fortitude saving throw (DC 10 + ½ your character level + your Wis modifier), in addition to dealing damage normally. A defender who fails this saving throw is stunned for 1 round (until just before your next action). A stunned creature drops everything held, can't take actions, takes a -2 penalty to AC, and loses his Dexterity bonus to AC.

You may attempt a stunning attack once per day for every Monk levels, and no more than once per round. Constructs, oozes, plants, undead, incorporeal creatures, and creatures immune to critical hits cannot be stunned.

Skyfire Arrows
Takes a full round action to fire, rather than a standard action.
Inflicts 1-2 piercing damage, plus 1d6 fire damage over 2 rounds (round of impact and following round). Has only half the standard range. During a fall or massive impact, carrier needs to make DC 19 item saving throw, or arrows ignite prematurely -- inflicting fire damage and ruining all other arrows in quiver.

ARROWS, STUNNER

Stunner arrows have a blunted tip causing bludgeoning damage rather than piercing damage. The range increment for a stunner arrow is two-thirds normal, due to decreased aerodynamics. Skilled users can use a stunner arrow to knock out an opponent (see New Feats, pp. 90).

STUNNING SHOT (GENERAL)

You can use a stunner arrow to make a ranged stunning attack.

Prerequisite: Point Blank Shot, Precise Shot, Base attack bonus +5, DEX 15+

Benefit: When firing a stunner arrow, you can make a special attack to attempt to stun an opponent. The maximum range for a Stunning Shot is two times your point blank range (normally 60'). The shot is at -4 to hit since you have to target your opponent's head. A successful hit means that your opponent must make a Fortitude save (DC = 10 + weapon damage) or be stunned for one round. A stunned character cannot attack, and loses any DEX bonus to armor class. Attackers get an additional +2 to hit versus stunned characters. A Stunning Shot is a full round attack action which provokes an attack of opportunity. Creatures who are immune to critical hits are likewise immune to a Stunning Shot.

TWO-FISTED HEALING

You can divide the benefits of a healing spell between two recipients.

Prerequisite: Extra Turning

Benefit: A cleric may divide the benefits of a cure light wounds, cure moderate wounds, cure serious wounds or cure critical wounds between two recipients. The cleric must have both hands free and be able to touch both injured parties. The cleric rolls normally for the amount of damage healed, and the total is split evenly between both parties, with the odd point going to the cleric's choice.
